Lingwood and Bilwinco team up in the UK

During the past decade Lingwood Food Services has developed into a major force in the food processing industry. Providing a wide range of equipment, from bespoke processing lines to standard solutions, Lingwood currently supply some of the biggest names in the food processing industry. To further strengthen their range, they have set up a partnership with Danish company Bilwinco A/S for the sale of Bilwinco weighing and packaging equipment.

Bilwinco is the most experienced supplier of complete weighing and packaging lines in the business. Their track record dates back to 1955 and from the very beginning innovation has been their driving force. The aim is continuously to set new standards that provide customers with world class solutions and a leading competitive edge.

The core of every Bilwinco solution is the multihead weigher, designed to work in production 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and always custom-made for products.
